Squadron Leader of R-100 Says Officers of Ill-Fated Dirigible Were Biased in Their Judgment.

WANTED TO "SHOW" IMPERIAL PARLEY Asserts They Thought Conference Was Psychological Moment to Carry Lord Thomson to India.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 10.—Squadron leader, R. S. Booth, commander of the dirigible R-100, said today that if the Imperial conference had not been in session, officers of the dirigible R-101 would have insisted upon additional flight trials before that ship left on the voyage which ended in the crash near Beauvais, France.

He made his statement as a witness in the inquiry into the loss of the R-101.

Booth said he thought the R-101 officers, in deciding to make the flight, were biased in their judgment by the knowledge that the Imperial Conference was in progress and that it was the psychological moment to carry Lord Thomson, the late Air Minister, to India and back.

"If the conference had not been on," he said, "I feel confident they would have insisted on more trials."

The R-101 had only 16 hours of trials after the alterations which preceded the start for India, he said. The R-100, he recalled, developed defects after 45 hours on one of its trial flights. They were such defects, he said, as would have seriously endangered the ship if they had occurred in the middle of the Atlantic.

The defects were corrected before the R-100 sailed for Canada, the squadron leader said. The R-101 officers were satisfied with their ship, in Booth's opinion, but he believed they had been insisted upon further trials but for the Imperial conference.

Booth, who was on the R-101 on its trial flight to the Hendon Air Pageant before the ship had been altered, said it then was losing an abnormal amount of gas and he would not have attempted to undertake a 50-hour flight in the condition it was in at that time.

Sir John Simon, who is conducting the inquiry, asked Booth to consider at his leisure a list of possible causes of the disaster.

PLANS FLYING BOAT WITH 170-PASSENGER CAPACITY Dr. Edmund Rumpel, German Designer, Arrives in U. S. With Model of Craft.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Tossed by hurricanes in the mid-Atlantic the Albert Ballin of the Hamburg-American Line arrived yesterday, one day late. It brought 456 passengers, among whom were Dr. Edmund Rumpel, German airplane designer, and Mrs. Alexandra Victoria Ruman, portrait painter, who was born Princess of Schleswig-Holstein and who was the wife of Prince Frederick August of Germany, son of the former Kaiser.

Dr. Rumpel brought a model of a flying boat which he hopes will be able to cross the Atlantic in 24 hours, carrying 170 passengers and will have a greater speed capacity than the DO-X, which has started on the first leg of a trans-Atlantic flight.

The plane, which Dr. Rumpel hopes will be completed in about a year and a half, will have a wing spread of 260 feet. Engines of 10,000 horsepower would be placed in the wings.

GEN. TASKER H. BLISS.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED FOR COSDEN OIL CO.

Total Assets Listed at $12,812,000 Debts, Inclusive Stock, $4,330,000.

By the Associated Press. WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 10.—Judge John P. Nields of the Federal Court, today, appointed receivers for the Cosden Oil Co. Receivers were appointed on suit by the Merrill Drilling Co. The Cosden company admitted its inability to pay current debts, although having ample assets. Total assets are listed at $12,812,000 and liabilities exclusive of corporate stock, $4,330,000; current assets, $2,159,000 and current liabilities, $1,787,000.

The receivers named are former Federal Judge Hugh M. Morris of Wilmington and George N. Moore of Fort Worth, Tex. The Cosden Oil Co. is a complete unit in the oil industry, operating in the midcontinent district. The company was formed in 1928 as Cosden & Co., Inc., but the name was changed last year.

The $5,000,000 corporation was organized by Joshua S. Cosden, long a prominent figure in the oil business, and its formation represented Cosden's return to activity in the industry after his loss of control of the old Cosden company, now the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation, in 1920-21.

J. A. Sisto & Co., New York Stock Exchange firm, which was suspended for insolvency several weeks ago, had done financing for the present Cosden company. Cosden stock, which sold as high as $74.75 earlier in the year, broke below $2 today, but it had been weak since the Sisto failure.

Cosden's executive offices are in Fort Worth, Tex. Cosden is president.

HAWKS SETS ANOTHER RECORD IN HAVANA—NEW YORK FLIGHT

He Makes Two Stops and Has Elapsed Time of 8 Hours, 45 Minutes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Capt. Frank M. Hawks, holder of the two-way world speed record and others, returned here yesterday from Havana. He made two stops, to take on fuel and to pass through customs, at Miami, Fla., and Charlotte, N. C. His elapsed time from Havana to Long Island was 8 hours, 45 minutes—actual flying time, 8 hours, 3 minutes. This is the fastest time ever made between Havana and this city, clipping 9 minutes from the New York-Havana record that Hawks set last Thursday. His round-trip time was 18 hours, 3 minutes.

"A lot of folks have the erroneous idea that I am racing about the country on my various flights," Hawks said. "As a matter of fact I just cruised along today, as I always do unless actually competing in a race, running my motor at 1550 revolutions a minute instead of the 2300 it makes wide open."

Parsons of Golconda, defeated his Republican opponent for the term in Congress by 29 votes. He received 27,325 votes while James V. Heldinger of Fairfield, received 27,296.

from allied Governments, including Great Britain, France, Belgium, Japan, China, Italy and Panama.

Served Past Retirement Age. His military career was prolonged by a special act of Congress after he had reached retirement age.

Born at Lewisburg, Pa., Dec. 31, 1853, one of the 13 children of George K. and Mary Raymond Bliss, he entered the Military Academy in 1871. Four years later he entered the army. His career took him through the Spanish-American War, the Porto Rican campaign, the Philippine disorders and difficulties with Mexico.

It was 10 years after his time for retirement had elapsed that he actually returned to civilian life in May, 1927, and lived in retirement in Washington.

Gen. Bliss began his military career by walking barefoot 10 miles to obtain from his Representative in Congress an appointment to West Point. He was 17 and wanted to save his new shoes to "look nice." He got the appointment. He was an instructor at West Point for a time and a professor at the Naval War College, and president of the Army War College. For a time he was military attaché in the American Embassy at Madrid and after the Spanish-American War served as Collector of Customs of Havana.

Two-Year-Old Daughter of One Also Put to Death and Wife Wounded by Savage Indians.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—News of the killing of two American missionaries and the infant daughter of one of them in the interior of Brazil, has been received by officers of the Inland South American Missionary Union. The victims were Arthur S. Tyler of Worcester, Mass., his 2-year-old daughter, and Miss Ethel Kratt, 26 years old, a nurse of Chicago.

Alfred H. Vroom, treasurer of the Missionary Union, who received cablegrams telling of the killings, said the messages did not state who made the attack, but it is assumed the missionaries were slain by savage Indians among whom they were working.

The attack occurred at an isolated station near Juruea, three weeks' journey by bullock cart from the nearest civilization.

"He was drinking all the time when we married in Waukegan, Ill.," Mrs. Ames testified. "That was Feb. 10, 1927. He promised he would stop drinking and did until a year ago, when he began again, became sulky, had temper tantrums and refused to work."

(Copyright, 1930.) NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 10.

THE annual membership roll call of the American Red Cross, about to begin, will be actively conducted in 16,000 communities. The present adult membership of 4,139,000 does not provide sufficient funds to meet the local, national and international demands that are made for relief.

There should be several more million members. People should join not only because the work needs financial support but because of the individual and public benefit that accrues from an extended membership in the greatest charity in the world. It has a charter from the Congress and the President of the United States is ex-officio its president. So many of its officers serve without compensation that its funds are almost entirely used to relieve temporary human suffering.

Fire, flood, hurricane, earthquake or any other catastrophe calls it into immediate action anywhere on earth. We have no greater instrument of peace, friendship, and good will devoted to humanity without regard to race or creed. No more practical and far-reaching philanthropy was ever created. Nothing better represents the true spirit of the people. In the great response to the call for membership will be revealed the moral power of this country.

AURORA BANK SAID TO HAVE WITHHELD $19,393 FROM STATE

gans said, that the bank issued a cashier's check for $2191 on Aug. 30, 1928, for interest on the liquidation account, but that the records showed that this check never had been cleared through for collection by the State. At the same time, he said, the bank made an entry on its books that interest on the account was paid to Aug. 30, 1928.

Mulligan said a second account for the Holland liquidation deposit was started on Dec. 24, 1928, which made two Holland liquidation deposits in the bank. This second account totaled $7259 when Brunk took office in 1929.

The accountants said interest also should have been paid on this second account at the State depositary contract rate and stated the interest not paid on this account totaled $2989.64.

$1443 Less Than Actual Balance. The auditors found that when Stephens issued checks to Brunk, turning this second account over to the incoming treasurer, they were $1443 less than the actual balance in the second account, apparently by oversight, and that this $1443 balance remained in the bank until the bank was closed last June 14.

Mulligan said Adams, when asked for an explanation why no interest was paid on the Holland liquidation accounts, said he had an understanding with Stephens that the bank was not to pay any interest on the collections deposited in return for Adams' work in collecting the Holland collateral. The auditors took the position interest should have been paid.

Brunk was suspended after the Governor's investigators found the bank had withheld $4993 in interest due the State. They charged $2950 of this amount was deposited in an account in the bank known as the "Brunk Rent Account," against which were charged payments on notes Brunk owed the bank and payments on other obligations of the Treasurer. Brunk has denied knowledge of the transactions or existence of the account. An audit of interest payments by other State depositories, about 40 in number, during the time Brunk has been Treasurer, is in progress. When it is completed another audit will be made of interest payments by all of the depositories during 1925-1928, inclusive, it was said.

Executives Announce They Cannot Stand Strain on Revenue After Nov. 30.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Emergency reductions in freight rates put into effect by railways for the relief of drouth stricken areas will be discontinued Nov. 30.

Eastern, Western and Southern railway executives in making the announcement said the revenue loss through the reduction of several million dollars "and such drain on the revenues cannot longer be continued."

The announcement said the reductions were made effective Oct. 1 by request of President Hoover and that more than 60,000 carloads of freight will have been moved under the reduced rates by Nov. 30.

"This represents an enormous tonnage," the statement added, "and probably greater than ever moved in any relief measure before undertaken in this country."

Explaining that the railways "willingly co-operated with the President in the relief program," the statement said "this announcement is made at this time in order to remove any uncertainty as to the position of the carriers concerning a further extension of the emergency reduced rates."

ABSCONDING THEATER MAN CLEARS HEAD USHER IN THEATRE

J. V. Noel Says He Persuaded J. Werner to Accompany Him on Way Back to St. Louis.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—James V. Noel, absconding theater manager of the Missouri Theatre at St. Louis, and Harold J. Werner, head usher, arrested here Friday after five days of an 18-day spending spree, started back to St. Louis today under guard of detectives.

Before leaving New Orleans, Noel made a sworn statement to the police, in which he admitted operating Werner from blame and the theft of $5688 taken from the theater's week-end receipts on Nov. 2, the night they started for New Orleans. Only $4373 was left when policemen arrested them.

Noel said they had lost $1998 in gambling and spent the rest of the night club entertainers and in the purchase of a $300 used car. He said he persuaded Werner to accompany him by saying he had a big theater deal pending in New Orleans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 10.—Dean Frank L. Martin of the University of Missouri School of Journalism today declared he could find no record of the name of James V. Noel, absconding theater manager of the school. Noel had told reporters he had been a journalism student at the University.

Three Classes of Poor. In his radio address, Cassidy said that his daily contact with persons who were homeless and hungry, sick and scantily clad, indicated that the poor and jobless were suffering more this year than ever.

Dr. MacIvor declared that every community, both from a spiritual and humanitarian standpoint, has a protection should aid the three classes of poor, God's poor, the devil's poor and the poor devil. "Citizens should give freely," he said, "for their own sake, the sake of the community, and for the sake of somebody else."

Mahaffey predicted that the coming winter would witness more than ordinary suffering among the poor and unemployed.

Kelso said that a conservative estimate of families in distress was 25,000, or about 100,000 persons. Pointing out that the tornado of 1927 affected 859 families, or about 25,000 persons, he concluded that the present situation was three times as bad.

Answering a question as to why the Community Fund pays for luncheon meetings of volunteer workers, Kelso explained that many of the workers pay for the meals by placing money in contribution boxes on each table that the Community Fund has only to make up the deficit between the amount contributed and the guarantee to the hotel. "In addition, the regular pledges of the workers more than equal the expense of the meals," he said. "Eventually we hope to eliminate these expenses directly, but meanwhile we do not wish to discourage those workers who contrib-

INQUEST JURORS 'DON'T QUITE FEEL' KILLING JUSTIFIED

But They Return Open Verdict in Fatal Shooting of Arthur L. Garrett by Deputy Constable.

An open verdict in the death of Arthur L. Garrett, shot by Deputy Constable Charles C. Bradley Jr., who said Garrett resisted arrest, was returned by a coroner's jury at Overland today. The jurors told Coroner O'Connell they "didn't quite feel" Bradley was justified in shooting.

First Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Herbert Ziercher, who attended the inquest, said there would be no prosecution, as he considered Bradley was justified.

At the inquest it was brought out that Garrett served 14 months in prison after being arrested under almost identical circumstances.

Two years ago, deputy constables stopped him for a minor charge and he threatened them with a pistol. Garrett pleaded guilty of flourishing a deadly weapon and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Early yesterday, when Bradley and another deputy arrested him, Garrett was affable until Bradley found a loaded revolver in the car, then, according to the deputy, he resisted arrest and attempted to flee.

No Pay Except Fees.

Bradley, who lives at 7238 St. Andrew's road, was accompanied, at the time of the arrest, by Edward Peterson, also a deputy constable. Both men are full-time deputies but receive no payment other than fees for arrests.

Bradley testified he and Peterson had been chasing a speeder whom they halted, forcing Garrett, who was driving fast behind them, to stop. They gave the other speeder a summons, they said, and then questioned Garrett.

"At first he was perfectly affable," Bradley said. "He told us he lived in Valley Park, but we noticed he had a St. Louis city license plate. Then he told us the plate was borrowed from a friend and we told him to drive to the Sheriff's office."

"He got in and started his car. I thought he was trying to give us the slip and turned off his ignition. He reached for one of the car pockets and I knocked his arm and told him to get out. He did and I looked in the pocket and found a bottle of whiskey and a loaded .38 caliber revolver."

"What are you doing with this?" I asked him. He didn't answer but hit me in the jaw and grabbed the gun. We grappled and fell down and rolled over and over. I had both hands on the gun and he had only one. With the other hand he kept hitting me in the face."

"I called to Ed and he came around and hit Garrett on the head with a rifle he had found in Garrett's car. Garrett jumped up, made as though to grab the rifle, and then ran."

"I fired my own revolver at him until he was empty. He ran in between two buildings and, drawing my own pistol, I chased him. He ran up on an oiling rack, but there was a fence at the far end. He turned around, facing me, and picked up a 5-gallon oil can."

"I fired a shot at him, apparently hitting him in the shoulder. He started toward me and it looked as if he were going to jump me again, so I fired two or three more shots. Just as he got even with me, he collapsed."

"I couldn't get a doctor in the neighborhood, so we drove him out to Overland and notified the coroner. Obviously he was dead."

Victim First Called Wartham.

Throughout his testimony, Bradley referred to the dead man as Albert Wartham, a name he had obtained from papers in the man's pockets. When it was brought out the man's right name was Garrett, John E. Mooney, attorney who represented Bradley's superior, Constable J. J. Frank, remembered he had represented Garrett in the concealed weapon case two years ago.

Before the inquest Deputy Constable Lazarus told reporters that a man who accompanied one of Garrett's daughters to the coroner's office had told him Garrett had been engaged in running whiskey.

Garrett was 44 years old and the father of four grown children. The body will be taken to Ava, Ill., for burial.

BANKER KILLS WIFE AND SELF AS SHE PACKS UP TO LEAVE

Ferdinand W. Fries, New Athens, Ill., Leaves Note Blaming Stepdaughter for Marital Troubles.

Ferdinand W. Fries, 65 years old, cashier of the State Bank of New Athens, Ill., shot and killed his wife, Thelma, 46, then killed himself, as Mrs. Fries prepared to leave him early yesterday.

The shooting occurred in the basement of the Fries home at New Athens, 30 miles from St. Louis. Mrs. Fries had packed most of her belongings and had gone to the basement searching for cord. Fries followed her and revived a quarrel which had been going on for several months.

Thelma Elrick, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Fries by a former marriage, ran to the basement after hearing a scream from her mother, followed by two shots. She found her stepfather dead with a bullet in the head and her mother dying in a wound in the chest.

Blames His Stepdaughter.

A search of the premises disclosed Fries had prepared for his act by writing a brief note which he placed in his purse. "This fatal and mournful event that caused me to do this act is on account of family troubles between my wife and self," he wrote. "Thelma Elrick, daughter of Mrs. Fries, causing the trouble between us."

Mr. and Mrs. Fries had been married eight years. Mrs. Fries having been nurse for the banker's first wife who died nine years ago. Last August Mrs. Fries sued for separate maintenance, charging cruelty, but a reconciliation was effected and the suit withdrawn.

At the inquest yesterday afternoon Miss Elrick said the quarrel was resumed shortly after the reconciliation, and it climaxed last week when Miss Elrick and her mother began preparations to go to the home of relatives in St. Louis.

Quarrels Over Settlement.

Preparations for the departure were interrupted frequently by quarrels over a financial settlement, the daughter said. Mrs. Fries demanding $10,000 and Fries insisting $500 was sufficient. Inquest verdicts of homicide and suicide were returned.

SHEEPSKIN COAT LEADS TO ARREST IN HOLDUP KILLING

Garment Found Back of Granite City Confectionery—Merchant Remembers Man Who Bought It.

Traced by a sheepskin coat as a clew, Russell Morris, Granite City, Mo., where he was arrested yesterday under a warrant charging him with the murder of John G. Bohlever, Granite City confectionery proprietor, in a holdup on Oct. 19.

Two men held up Bohlever in his store at 2715 Benton street in the early evening. One wore a sheepskin coat and the other was in shirt sleeves. The coatless robber pointed a revolver at Bohlever and ordered "Hands up." Bohlever said "All right, but don't shoot; I'll get the money." and started to turn toward his home next door, supposedly for his revolver, for he had often said he would resist robbery. The robber may have surmised Bohlever's intention, for he fired a shot, which killed Bohlever.

The robbers fled through the front door without getting anything. In the back yard the police found a sheepskin coat and a suit coat, which they thought the coatless robber had discarded in advance as an attempt to avoid identification. A Granite City merchant, whose tag was in the sheepskin garment, said he remembered having sold it to Morris, whose name he knew, because he had not disposed of many such coats.

Morris, 23 years old, was known as a laborer who had been out of work.

He had a room in a Granite City lodging house, but did not appear there, police were told, after the time of the shooting. His landlady gave the police a tiny picture Morris had had made by a street photographer. Enlarged, this picture enabled William Krausch, Bohlever's clerk, who had witnessed the shooting, to point out Morris as the man he thought had fired the bullet.

Last week Chief of Police Ross Johnson of Granite City learned that Dover, a small county seat on the Cumberland River, near the Kentucky line, was Morris' home town. He sent a copy of Morris' photograph to authorities there and they reported by wire that Morris was in town. Morris waived extradition and Sheriff Herman of Madison County was expected to start back with him today. No word has been received of any statement by Morris.

LEASE OF U. S. OIL LAND IN CALIFORNIA OK'D

Pan-American Deal, Outgrowth of Fall Scandal Approved by Court.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—The lease of the Pan-American Petroleum Co. to 660 acres in the United States Oil Reserve No. 1, in Kern County, California, which the Government maintained had been obtained by fraud, was held valid by Federal Judge Frank H. Norcross of Nevada today.

The decision, pending nearly nine months following trial of the Government's allegations, declared fraud had not entered into the transaction.

The case was an outgrowth of the oil scandals of the Harding administration involving Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, and Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior. At the time the lease was consummated, Pan-American was operated by Doheny, but later was sold to the Richfield Oil Co., of California.

HOLDS G. O. P. COMMITTEE MAY FILL POST OF RESIGNED MEMBER

Judge Percy Declines to Issue Writ to Bar Successor of Nat. Goldstein.

The right of the Republican Party Committee to name the successor of a resigned member was upheld today in a decision by Circuit Judge Percy. He denied the application for a writ of prohibition by Maurice J. Gordon, who sought to prevent the appointment of Justice of the Peace Harry C. Meyers as Nineteenth Ward Committeeman to replace Nat. Goldstein.

Goldstein's election last August was contested by Gordon, who also was a candidate, and this suit is pending. The committee chose Meyers when Goldstein resigned.

Gordon, an attorney, declared committee members were "elected public officials" and as such could be replaced only by appointment of the Governor. Henry Kortjohn, attorney for the committee, contended committee members were not "elected public officials" within the meaning of the law since only persons electing to vote the Republican ticket took part in their selection.

18 SAILORS DROWN WHEN SHIP SINKS IN PACIFIC GALE

Lumber Schooner, Caught on Humboldt, Cal., Bar Is Split in Two by Waves—
No Life Boats Lowered.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—While a waning storm tossed wreckage of the lumber schooner Brooklyn at their feet, coast guardsmen searched today for the bodies of 18 men who went down with the little wooden craft Saturday at Humboldt Bar in Northern California.

Meantime a determined crew of 41 men refused all offers to be taken off the creaking Richfield oil tanker Tamahua, aground since Thursday night on Pescadero Reef, 50 miles south of San Francisco. Six wreckers aboard and three tugs waited for heavy seas to subside before beginning salvage attempts. A breeches buoy was ready to take the crew ashore in case of emergency.

A third ship, caught in the same storm which wrecked the Brooklyn, was in tow of the coast guard cutter Saranac. This helpless vessel, the once naval cruiser Misoula, with 11 men aboard, broke loose off the Oregon coast from the cable with which the tug Roosevelt was towing it to San Francisco to be scrapped.

Determined to maintain his schedule, Capt. T. Tufvesson steamed the lumber-laden Brooklyn out of Eureka for San Francisco Saturday in the face of one of the worst gales in years.

Schooner Split in Two.
When the danger of trying to cross the treacherous bar outside Humboldt Harbor, became apparent, and before the ship could be put about, it was caught by towering waves. They tossed the 333-ton craft over on its side.

Giant seas split the wooden craft in two as easily as a man would break a match, said Capt. Ahlin, whose lumber schooner Washington was but a quarter-mile behind.

A few minutes after the ship was caught, Ahlin said, the Brooklyn sank with all hands on board. No boats were lowered.

Shattered lifeboats, broken parts of the hull, splintered beams, the battered deck house and scattered lumber of the little schooner which were hurled on the beach told of the power of the storm.

The gale and the fast-running ebb tide ripped anchor, chain and part of the anchor winch from the Washington when it tried to stop. Small fishing craft rode out the fiercest part of the storm, not daring to cross the bar until yesterday.

When the storm snapped the cable from the Roosevelt to the Misoula off Coos Bay, the tug was forced to call for help.

The chain dragged over its stern and threatened to foul the propeller. The Saranac then went to the aid of the helpless cruiser and took up the towing job.

Barge Sinks Off Florida; Five of Crew Missing.

By the Associated Press.
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Nov. 10.—A white-capped sea today hid the fate of the men who disappeared as the barge Northern Light sank in a storm that harassed shipping along a wide expanse of the Florida east coast. Search by air was ordered continued in the hope of effecting a rescue.

Beached by a raging surf, the tug Messenger was in a precarious position near Jupiter, while two other vessels, crippled by the breakers, proceeded northward at reduced speeds.

The Northern Light, from Tampa, Fla., to Wilmington, N. C., with a cargo of phosphate and in tow of the tug Ontario of Mobile, went down off Carys Fort reef yesterday. The Ontario picked up only J. Stewart of the barge's crew of six.

The barge company's office at Mobile gave the names of the missing as John W. Heath, master; C. B. Pittman of Mobile; K. Legg, address unknown; R. S. Watson, Mobile, and L. Bodden, Tampa.

Pilot Bob Moore of Miami flew over the area in a plane for four hours yesterday, and the Ontario stood by in the chance that the missing had launched a lifeboat or taken refuge on a nearby key.

Capt. Charles Russel and a crew of six were rescued with life lines at the Jupiter lighthouse Saturday night, when the Messenger was tossed up on the beach. It was on its way to aid the freighter Lillian, whose propeller had fouled against a buoy chain. Meanwhile, the Lillian, owned by the Baltimore & Carolina Lines, was floated with slight damage.

The freighter Upshur, disabled Thursday night, today was being towed by the tug McCauley to Jacksonville. It is owned by the Merchants & Miners line. Although helpless from engine trouble, the Upshur helped in the rescue of the crew of the schooner Dunham Wheeler, which went down near Cape Canaveral. The Upshur saw the schooner's distress signals and sent a radio message to the steamer Arctic, which changed course to remove the schooner's crew and then proceeded to New York.

G. O. P. DECLARES FAITH IN PLEDGE OF DEMOCRATS

Senator Watson Expresses Satisfaction That Opponents Will Not Obstruct President.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. — The Democratic pledge that the party's increased representation in the next Congress would not be used to embarrass and obstruct the administration has been accepted by the Republicans as made in good faith.

The Republican Senate leader, James E. Watson of Indiana, last night said in a statement through the Republican National Committee that the utterance of seven Democratic leaders made soon after election was construed as an effort to halt any business alarm and that it should carry conviction. The Republican party, he said, accepted it "with full faith and credit."

Watson's statement follows: "We accept with full faith and credit the pronouncements of the seven Democratic leaders. We are very happy to know that their representation in Congress will cooperate with us in all legislative acts that tend to promote public well-being, and furthermore it is gratifying to know that they will not obstruct or embarrass the President in the conduct of the Government."

"I could, of course, indulge in criticism at the obvious, political propaganda which accompanies their public assurance and I could recriminate as to the past, but this is not the spirit in which I desire to accept their offer of co-operation."

"The country is in a time of difficulty from world-wide causes and co-operative action in the Congress is necessary."

"I believe their statement should steady the public mind. It was, no doubt, put forward in the hope that it would stabilize the public markets, which have been falling out of necessary alarm since the day of election, and it should carry conviction that this alarm is uncalled for because it gives assurance that there will be no attempt on the part of the Democratic party to support disturbing legislation."

"It is obviously the duty of Republican members to co-operate. The two parties are practically equally divided in the Congress. It may be that the Republicans have a majority in the lower House. The very evenness of division between the two parties is without parallel in our history. It represents a legislative victory neither for the Democrats nor the Republicans. It may be well said on one side that the Democrats have made considerable legislative gains. It may be said on the other side that the number of gains of the opposing party are much less than in many mid-term elections hitherto; that the Democrats have failed in their objective and that the Republicans have held astonishingly well in the face of the adverse factors temporarily in motion."

"But be this as it may, we are faced with a national situation where the only patriotic solution lies in co-operative action and I welcome it and I am sure my colleagues will welcome it also."

FURTHER DELAY IN ELECTRIC RATE SUIT PROBABLE

City's Action Begun in 1928
Will Be Held Up Another
Two Years If Revaluation
Is Ordered.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10.—Insistence of the Union Electric Light & Power Co. of St. Louis that the Missouri Public Service Commission must make a full physical appraisal and valuation of the company's property, before ordering any reduction of its St. Louis electric rates, is likely to defer from two to four years a final decision in the rate case now pending.

Hearings upon an audit by the commission's accountants of the Union Electric property accounts and earnings were adjourned from last Oct. 21 to Nov. 17. This audit of the books, upon the investment cost theory used, showed grounds for some reduction in St. Louis electric rates. The company contends present conditions do not justify any change in existing rates.

The commission has not accepted the company's contention that a full valuation is necessary before any order may be issued on the rates.

ed the company's contention that a full valuation is necessary before any order may be issued on the rates.

fore any order may be issued on the rates. In overruling a company's objection to proceeding with consideration of the audit report as the basis of the present hearings, the commission ruled a full valuation was not prerequisite in determining the reasonableness of the existing rates. It held such a proceeding could be ordered later, if the audit, together with other evidence assembled, were found insufficient to arrive at a finding concerning the rates.

Can Appeal to Court.
The company has the right of appeal from the commission's orders, and could take to the courts any rate order based upon the audit, as well as any such order after a full valuation. Enforcement of a commission rate order may be suspended while an appeal is pending, in the discretion of the court.

Determination of rate cases of large utilities involve many delays. Two years and five months have elapsed since the city of St. Louis filed a complaint that St. Louis rates of the company should be reduced and asked for an audit by the commission. More than two years were required to complete the audit of the books, which covered 13 1/2 years of the period since the last commission valuation of the company, as of Dec. 31, 1915. It a full physical appraisal is ordered, it would require from two to three years with the small engineering staff to which the commission is limited by its appropriations.

Appeals involve further delays. In recent appeals from commission orders in large utility cases, first to the circuit and then to the Missouri Supreme Court, from one and a half to two years have elapsed before a final court decision was reached.

History of Present Case.
The present case grew out of an inquiry by the commission into Union Electric earnings. In March, 1928, after the commission learned the company's 1927 profits had increased nearly $1,000,000 over 1926. After conferences, and the suggestion of the commission, the company filed a new schedule, effective June 1, 1928, which provided reductions estimated at $600,000 a year for its larger customers. Residence rates were not reduced. Early in June, 1928, the city of St. Louis filed its complaint, contending the reduction should have been at least $1,400,000 a year.

The validity of the present proceeding, and jurisdiction of the commission to hear the case, were attacked by the Union Electric when the hearings opened Oct. 22, on technical grounds that the complaint filed by the city was signed by City Commissioner J. T. Muench, instead of by the Mayor, or the president of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen, or by 25 consumers, or by any of the others authorized by law to file such complaints. The company moved for dismissal of the complaint.

The technical point was immediately upset by the city, which showed from the record and the transcript of an earlier hearing that the city had filed an amended complaint, properly signed, which had been accepted by the commission and which had been served upon counsel for the company before the audit was ordered.

Reproduction New.
The company injected the reproduction new theory of valuation into the case, through a supplemental answer, although company executives had heretofore declared they did not believe in making public utility valuations, for rate-making purposes, on the reproduction new theory. That theory is based on estimates of what it would cost to reproduce new the present property, at present prices (without regard to what it actually cost) less depreciation accrued in the present property. The theory has enabled public utilities to obtain rate-making valuations many millions of dollars in excess of what actually was invested in their properties.

While not contending that reproduction new should be the dominant theory, the company, in its answer, stated "In the event this proceeding be not dismissed, the company demands that such reproduction cost be ascertained and considered by the commission."

Several courses are open to the commission based upon the audit report commission in this case, under its practices. It can fix a tentative valuation and order a rate reduction and other evidence to be submitted in the present hearings; or order a full physical appraisal and valuation by its engineers to supplement the audit, or it may order what-ever adjustment it considers justified by the audit, and then order a full valuation to follow to determine whether any further reduction should be made from what is shown by the audit.

The company, of course, could take any such order to the courts, for review.

Another method frequently used, which has a bargain counter aspect, is that of adjusting rates by informal conference. Under this method when the commission observes from annual reports that a company's earnings appear to justify a reduction, informal conferences are held with company executives, at which it is suggested a reduction be made. Occasionally the companies suggest such a conference. Any rate reduction thus made necessarily must be with the full agreement of the company and is made without full investigation to determine whether it is as large as the company's actual condition would justify.

Commission Understaffed.

The commission has been driven to use the conference method at times by the limitations upon its staff. Because of the limiting of its appropriations by the Legislature the commission is understaffed. In large cases the single utility under investigation generally has more engineers and experts working upon the case it submits to the commission, than the commission has available to check and regulate all of the hundreds of utilities, large and small, under its supervision.

This legislative curb upon the commission has prevented it from making valuations of some of the larger companies and has hampered it in keeping valuations it has made up to date. This entered into the fact that the Union Electric, prior to institution of the present case, had not been appraised or audited by the commission since the 1915 valuation. As a result the Union Electric, in effect, was unregulated for 15 years.

In its answer to the present case the company contended its value for rate making on the investment cost theory, as of June 30, 1929, was $88,522,215, including $13,500,000 for going value. On the reproduction new, less depreciation, basis, the company contended the value was at $90,000,000 including $12,500,000 going value.

In contrast with these figures, the commission accountants, on the investment cost theory, found the value of the property of the company to be $87,117,898 as of June 30, 1929, including all allowances customarily made except going value. The commission in most cases has not allowed as going value more than 10 per cent of the total valuation of the property.

Two Naturalists Will Be in West Indies Year and Half.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The American Museum of Natural History announced that the yawl Basilisk left Baltimore yesterday on an 1800-mile scientific expedition to study reptile and other life in the West Indies. It will be gone a year and a half.

The vessel is manned by Gilbert C. Klingel and W. Wallace Coleman, Baltimore naturalists. It was built especially by Klingel to reach small islands untouched by naturalists because of the difficulty of reaching them except in native boats without laboratory facilities. Klingel has made a special study of reptile life and he expects to collect rare and unknown species. He also plans to study the organization of island colonies, concerning which little is known.

FOUR LAVARRE NEWSPAPERS
SOLD UNDER U. S. COURT ORDER

Bid in by International Paper and Power Co., Which Held $870,000 Note.
By the Associated Press.
AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 16.—The International Paper & Power Co.
of New York today bid in the properties of the Augusta (Ga.)
Chronicle, the Columbia (S. C.)
Record, the Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald and the Spartanburg Journal under terms of a court sale ordered several weeks ago by Federal Judge Barrett. The price was $882, 130.

Judge Barrett signed a decree, granting the properties to the International Paper & Power Co., and issued a permanent injunction, restraining either Harold Hall or William Lavarre, former joint operators of the newspapers, from interfering in any way with the stock in the newspapers now held by the paper company.

The principal amount involved in the sale was $870,000, represented by a joint note signed by Hall and Lavarre on April 27, 1927,
and held by the paper company.
The difference between that figure and the amount bid for the properties, attorneys said, represented the indebtedness accrued since the note was signed in the operation of the papers.

The newspapers were purchased jointly by Hall and Lavarre with the $870,000 borrowed from the International Paper & Power Co.
They became involved in litigation over the partnership, however, and a Federal Court several months ago appointed a special court commissioner to operate the newspapers until their sale.

MRS. L HATED
COD LIVER OIL

Now, thanks to McCoy's tasteless tablets, she wards
off sickness pleasantly

MRS. L was constantly troubled with stubborn colds. She tried every remedy she could find. Nothing helped her. Desperate at last she asked her doctor what to do, and the doctor recommended the regular use of cod liver oil.
She tried it, and sure enough she rid herself of those bothersome annoying colds. But that dose of oil three times a day was awful. Sometimes it even made her sick.
Then Mrs. L heard about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets. Eagerly she went to her drugist and bought a box. She used them regularly for several weeks. She continued to get all the benefits of cod liver oil without putting up with that nasty fishy taste.
Two of these wonderful tablets contain all the vitamins you get in a whole spoonful of cod liver oil—they'll do everything for you that cod liver oil can do. Extensive tests prove this to be so. That's why the Good Housekeeping Institute has given these tablets its seal of approval. That's why so many doctors widely recommend them.

Documents Had Been Requested by 47 Livestock Dealers Who Are Defendants in Hearing.

Subpenas for the production of business records and documents,
desired by the East Side livestock dealers who are defendants, on a boycott charge, were revoked today by order of Secretary of Agriculture Hyde. The Secretary's action was announced by Examiner J. B. Horgan, at the hearing of the 47 dealers, in the East St.
Louis Federal building.

The firms are accused of refusing to deal with the National Order Buying Co. and the Producers' Livestock Association, which are affiliated with the National Livestock Marketing Association. The latter is a co-operative organization recognized by the Federal Farm Board.
Part of the dealers' defense is an attack on the resources of the cooperative and its affiliated companies. The defendants have raised the question whether the companies were strong enough to meet the cash trade requirements of the local livestock market. They asked subpenas for production of the companies' records, and these were issued, but are now revoked.
The examiner read a telegram from Secretary Hyde, stating that he would entertain an application for renewal of the subpenas if application were made in writing, and if such application showed that the evidence of the records would be material and relevant.

Statement by Defense.

W. M. Borders Jr., one of counsel for the dealers, said:
"Mr. Hyde sits as prosecutor and judge. He now requires us to lay or evidence on the table before him. What else can we conclude than that, if the evidence appears to be against us, he will admit it,
and if it favors us, he will exclude it? Solicitor Marshall of the Department of Agriculture left here Saturday, and reached Washington yesterday morning. Obviously he told Mr. Hyde that if this evidence were presented, the Government's case would be blown out of the water."

"But although we deny his right to demand our evidence in advance, I shall state what we expect to prove. First, that the National Livestock Marketing Association is completely dominated by the Farm Board. Through the contracts and records which we desire as evidence, it will appear that this control extends to every co-operative which has received money from the Farm Board, including the National Order Buying Co. and the Producers' Livestock Commission
Co. The latter two are, in fact, one company, and the central government controls and dominates every policy of the two firms."

"We wish to show that the Government loans were made illegali-ly, even assuming that the Farm Board act is constitutional, which we deny. The loans are not in compliance with the act, and the Farm Board members are directly responsible, with these companies which have squandered the taxpayers' money in the purpose of driving these dealers out of business. We wish to show that the companies are not legally organized, and that other companies cannot be compelled by the Secretary of Agriculture or the courts to deal with them."

"Acting as Buyer and Seller."

"They are acting as buyer and seller, in violation of the Packers and Stockyards act and of other laws. One of them has violated the Packers and Stockyards act and the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture, and that fact is known to Mr. Hyde."
At last week's sessions of the hearing, Attorney Borders and his father, who is of counsel in the case, demanded that subpenas be issued for the testimony of Secretary
Hyde, Chairman Legge of the Farm
Board and several other Government officials. The attorney said it was desired to place the officials on record under oath and not in
"stump speeches," as to the Government's policy.

The attorneys charge that the Government is endeavoring to establish a monopoly of the livestock trade in the hands of the co-operatives. Secretary Hyde refused to issue the subpenas, stating that the presence of the officials in Washington was necessary. The examiner is a member of the legal staff of the Department of Agriculture.

The last question in the questionnaire was: "In the light of all evi-

the United States acted wisely in plied "Yes," 10 "No," and 19 said

dent Hoover was urged today by the Mississippi Valley Association to recommend increased appropriations for development of the Mississippi waterway.

William R. Dawes, Chicago, president of the association, headed a delegation which called on Mr. Hoover and discussed with him the engineering features and financial needs of the Mississippi project. The group favored a long term program for the development with specific appropriations each year to bring the work to a conclusion at a definite time.
In addition to Dawes, those calling on the President were Cleveland A. Newlon, St. Louis; R. A.

Brown, Birmingham, Ala.; Arthur Rogers, Minneapolis, Minn.; and Rufus E. Lee, Omaha, Neb.

WOMAN STABS HERSELF
While two officers waited to take her to City Hospital for observation yesterday afternoon, Miss Anna Pekowski, 25 years old, stabbed herself in the throat with a butcher knife at her home, 2577A Warren street. She is expected to recover.
Miss Pekowski, who had been under observation previously, accused herself when the officers arrived to take her to the hospital and stepped to a sink, where she seized the knife. The officers, Patrolmen Gibbons and Trampe, disarmed her.

ST. LOUIS HORSES GET TWO FIRSTS AT NATIONAL SHOW

Four Other Twenty-Three Entries Place Second; Boston Hackney Farm in Lead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Boston Hackney Farm, Morristown, N. J., holds a commanding lead over all exhibitors at the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden. During the first three days of the show last week, the New Jersey breeding farm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore, piled up nine firsts, seven seconds, one third and one fourth. Mrs. W. P. Roth, Rockwood City, Cal., ranks second with six victories and as many red ribbons. The Dilwynne Farm of Montebello, Del., also has six blue ribbons to its triumph but has won less seconds.

Mrs. Ruth Rowan, a brilliant rider from Montreal, holds away over the jumping classes, having registered five firsts. John R. Thompson of Chicago, has taken six firsts and two seconds.

W. T. Treadway, St. Louis, has secured two firsts and four seconds.

PASTEUR TREATMENT FOR FOUR
Four members of one family are receiving Pasteur treatment following a report by the Graefwohl Laboratories that a 6-month-old puppy, which bit the four persons last Thursday, had rabies. The dog died Saturday and the carcass was sent to the laboratory for examination.

Those receiving the treatment are George F. Lawery, 5558 Kingshighway Northwest; his wife, Pearl; their daughter, Agnes, 15, and a son, Milton, 15. Lawery and the children were bitten on the hands, and Mrs. Lawery on the ankles when they attempted to quiet the dog, which ran through the house snapping at them. The wounds were cauterized.

PLANS FOR ST. LOUIS ARMISTICE DAY PARADE

4000 Persons, Mostly World War Veterans, to March Tomorrow Afternoon.

About 4000 persons, most of them veterans of the World War, will march in the Armistice day parade tomorrow, starting at Fourteenth street and Washington avenue at 2:30 p. m.

Schools, banks, courts, city offices, the St. Louis Stock Exchange and the Merchants' Exchange will be closed all day. Tuesday night school classes will meet Wednesday night.

Gov. Caulfield and Mayor Miller will be guests of honor at a luncheon at Hotel Jefferson before the parade forms. Representatives of each American Legion post will be seated in post units.

The parade, which will be in six divisions, will include 14 bands and drum corps, and representatives of all local patriotic and military organizations. Members of the Cavalry Reserve Officers' Association have rented horses at their own expense for the mounted unit that was lacking in last year's parade.

The parade will move east to Broadway, north to Olive street, west to Twelfth boulevard, and south to City Hall, where it will disband. If the weather is fair, memorial services will be held on the lawn of the Civil Courts Building immediately after the parade. In case of inclement weather, the services will be held in the City Hall rotunda.

The St. Louis Medical Society will have an Armistice day program tomorrow night at 8:30.

Armistice Sunday services were held yesterday at the Church of St. Michael and St. George, Wydown and Ellenwood avenues.

Preaching on "Peace," at Christ Church Cathedral yesterday, Bishop William Scarlett commended Briland's counsel that one need not believe blindly, but should believe profoundly, in peace.

"This is not only a day of remembrance," he said. "It is a day of dedication. The dead have passed on to us the torch, praying to us to take up their quarrel with the foe. And 'the foe' is everything in our personal and national lives which makes for bitterness, for hatred, suspicion, vengeance, war."

The Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations will present an Armistice Day program at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow evening at Sheldon Memorial Hall.

All organizations with a program of work toward international peace are requested to attend. The program will include the presentation of a one-act drama, entitled "The Unknown Soldier Speaks," to follow an address by Rabbi Isserman and a musical program.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE RECORDED

About 7000 miles From Washington; Destructive If on Land.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A very severe earthquake lasting three and one-half hours Sunday afternoon was shown on Georgetown University seismological observatory records. It was estimated to have been centered about 7000 miles from Washington but the direction was undetermined.

Observers said the record was the most extensive received in some time. The shocks began at 2:27:40 p. m., with the first reflective wave at 2:30:34 p. m., and maximum intensity was recorded at 2:30 p. m. If centered on land, the disturbance was thought by observers to have been destructive, but it was a subsea disturbance, they said, its effect and location probably would not be determined.

BODY FOUND IN BURNING CAR; LONDON SALESMAN ARRESTED

He Is Charged With "Murder of Person Unknown." Victim Thought to Have Been Woman.

NORTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 10.—From the midnight spectacle of a passenger automobile blazing on a hillside near here last Thursday there has developed a murder mystery. It is attracting unusual attention in view of recent American cases of the kind.

Inside the car when the blaze had died down was found a human body, charred beyond recognition.

A search for the car owner led to the arrest of Alfred Arthur Rouse, 35 years old, a commercial traveler living in London, and he has been charged with "murder of some persons unknown."

Although understood to have made a long statement to police, he would say nothing to court but "I am innocent."

Meanwhile detectives are broadcasting a description of the burned car victim, who, they think, was a woman. Among the clues to her identity is a fragment of singed cloth.

One important clue has been furnished by the discoverers of the burning car, two young men who were returning home from a dance, as they saw the blazing car a few hundred yards away, they saw a hatless man wearing a mackintosh and carrying a brief case. They exchanged a word with him about the burning car and then left him to investigate the mystery while he disappeared.

Auction of Banker Bob's Furniture.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The luxurious furnishings of the Fifth avenue home of Charles V. Bob, missing stock promoter, are being advertised for sale at public auction between Nov. 12 and 15. Local authorities said this would seem to indicate that Bob's family had given up all expectations that the broker, missing since Oct. 6, would return.

NA DELEGATES TOGETHER ON DOMINION STATUS

and Moslems Going to Round Table Conference Wednesday With definite Aim.

TONS, HOWEVER, LACK A PROGRAM

Predict Early Break-Failure Would Probably Cause Fall of Labor Government.

JOHN L. BALDERSTON, World and Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—When King opens the Indian Round Conference in the Royal Palace at the House of Lords Wednesday will start something whose one can foresee, but which is the most difficult and political negotiation on the British Empire has ever had. Nothing less than the question of a United States of India is at stake, and events have so far since the Simon report from the Viceroy, Lord to which neither the Government here nor the Indians are agreed.

British delegation of 13 has already. That is officially admitted. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald wants all points of view to be threshed out and hopes agreements may come after a series of negotiations; but he does not expect to submit any general report at the conference beyond the report and the supplement from the Viceroy, Lord to which neither the Government here nor the Indians are agreed.

Indians Get Together. Observers expect the conference to break up in the first two weeks. They base this on the remarkable extent to the 57 delegates from British India, Hindus and Moslems and the 16 Indian Princes already got together on a "home rule" program goes further than the British delegates or Parliament could go.

The preliminary conversations between the British and the Indians have reached a point of understanding which is a contrast to the constant bickering between the two in India and greatly surprised Anglo-Indians. The two are agreed that real dominion status must be conceded by Britain, and the Hindus would for the majority in India and provisional government, are agreed in principle to a limited unheeded of concessions to Modern minorities.

Indian Princes, too, are in fairly close agreement with the British Indian delegates, it is whispered in Buckingham Palace. Their view, they dare not try to put up the present regime and their rights and participation in a future united states or dominion of India recognized from start, which they can only in by not backing the British against their fellow Indians.

Principle of equal status understood, will be formally agreed by the Princes of India and the delegates from British India at the first session held the King's formal opening of conference.

of the strong line they get dominion status, they are repudiated by the at home and mocked by the of the All-Indian Congress. Many Indian delegates stress this in private conversation, and say it will be better to smash the conference by making claims for nationhood, which they now will not be conceded, than to negotiations drag on hopelessly months.

firmness they hope to gain at home. Otherwise, they will be regarded as dupes of British and their careers in will be finished.

Agha Khan is heading the committees which is negotiating with the Hindus. The have appointed a similar committee to insure agreement of the British Indian delegates to a new Indian constitution, they to leave the British power Indian nationalists in three of India which is given by the British has given new policy that the native must be a constituent part of the new India from the start. If the conference is down and revolve start in the Princes may, probably place in their lot with the speedy recovery.

British; but that they do not affect their attitude operation now.

On the British side, previous hesitation and moment. The Labor Ministry, led by MacDonald, would rather than either a Parliament or King permit. The Indian King, who is Emperor who does not mean fact be forgotten, but is possible; but it is tant in this situation other crisis that has the present reign.

British officials who in India and most of many Liberals are the united front which delegates show at most of them believe break down as soon as the age-long feud between the British and the Indians and fear felt by the for the education of clans outside India and promise satisfactory to be reached.

But speculation is a course of the would be absurd at There has probably meeting of delegates of the chief problems where so little plans done in advance and thing at stake is open The British attempt in shape took years resulted in the Simon report or has reference, has chosen One interesting fact tremendously complicated that the break-up of the would probably prompt fall of the ment here, although sense. The effect, on the policy of the nation, which comes Tory and Liberal must to be seen.

DELEGATES TOGETHER ON DOMINION STATUS

And Moslems Going to Round Table Conference Wednesday With Definite Aim.

TONS, HOWEVER,
LACK A PROGRAM

Predict Early Breakup—Failure Would Probably Cause Fall of Labor Government.

JOHN L. BALDERSTON,
New York Correspondent of the New York Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—When King opens the Indian Round Table Conference in the Royal Hall of the House of Lords Wednesday, he will start something which no one can foresee, but which British and Indian alike admit is the most difficult and serious political negotiation on the British Empire has ever known. Nothing less than the fate of a United States of India is in question, and events have so far since the Simon Reports issued that all main decisions made are in the melting pot.

British delegation of 13 has arrived. That is officially admitted. Prime Minister Ramsay Macdonald wants all points of view to be threshed out and hopes agreements may emerge "after the fashion of the League of Nations." But he does not expect to submit any general report at the conference beyond the supplementary report from the Viceroy, Lord
Linlithgow, which neither the Government nor the Indians are willing to accept.

Indians Get Together.
They observe the expected breakup in the first two weeks. They base this on the remarkable extent, to the 57 delegates from British India, Hindus and Moslems and the 16 Indian Princes already got together on a common home rule" program goes further than the British or Parliament could possibly go.

The preliminary conversations between the two groups in India and greatly surprised Anglo-Indians. The two are agreed that real dominion must be conceded by Britain, and the Hindus would for the majority be agreed in principle to accept unheard-of concessions to Moslem minorities.

Indian Princes, too, are early in fairly close agreement with the British Indian delegates and have so far withdrawn. It is whispered, from Buckingham Palace, that they are not to try to over the present regime and their rights and participation in a future united states or union of India recognized from within, which they can only influence by not backing the British Unionist States.

Principle of equal status understood, will be formally accepted by the Princes of India at the first session held the King's formal opening of the conference.

The meaning of the strong line
by all Indians here is clear.
They get dominion status,
at home and abroad, and the British Indian delegates, who have boycotted the London conference, strongly stress this in private talks, and say it will be better for them to smother the conference by making claims for nationalism, which they now will not be conceded, than to negotiations drag on hopelessly long.

Indians hope to gain at home. Once they are regarded as dupes of the British and their careers in India will be finished.

Alma Khan is heading the committee which is negotiating with the Hindus. The house today spread to adjacent buildings, including the premises of
the British-American Tobacco Co.,
and caused damage estimated at $2,500,000. Hundreds of firemen
fought the blaze for five hours.

Melba Taken Ashore to Hospital.
MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov.
10.—Dame Nellie Melba, Australian
prima donna who has been ill
aboard the liner Cathay, was removed from the vessel to a hospital here today. Doctors predicted her recovery.

Elephants Attack Dummy Lion In London Lord Mayor's Show

Dash Into Crowd but are Soon Quieted—Covered Wagon Escorted by Indians a Feature of Famous Parade.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Three frightened elephants in the Lord Mayor's show today caught sight of a make-believe lion ahead of them in the parade and charged into the crowd which thronged Thames embankment. Fifty spectators were pretty badly jostled as the animals dashed toward them.
It was the most grotesque parade in years and not the least colorful spectacle in the parade was Sir Pheneas Neal himself, the new Lord Mayor of London, in the ornate carriage which has carried his predecessors to their inaugurations for generations.

The elephants, in a tableau representing India, plodded along behind a group of King's College students who carried a figure of a lion as their mascot. Suddenly their leader saw the traditional jungle scene and rushed toward it, trampling.

The great beast seized the lion in its trunk and dashed it to the pavement as the students scattered.
Then the three elephants headed for the crowd. Mounted police soon drove them back into line, however, and the parade proceeded.

Up to that point the most exciting feature of the parade had been a real covered wagon, used by British pioneers who participated in the opening of the American West. It was conveyed by a band of American Indians in full regalia.
Other American touches included a figure of Benjamin Franklin and seventeenth century explorations.

With a brilliant sunshine, thousands of spectators for hours watched the age-old pageant with its trimmings which included a pageant of the empire to synchronize with the Imperial Conference. Today's show was one of the most elaborate in many years.

Franklin, attired in a costume of 200 years ago, appeared in a section organized by St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Franklin's double was a figure in the pageant scene of early American colonization.

British, but that likelihood does not affect their attempts at cooperation now.

On the British side there is obvious hesitation and lack of agreement. The Labor Ministers, headed by Macdonald, would go much further than either a majority of Parliament or King George would permit. The influence of the King, who is Emperor of India and who does not mean to let this fact be forgotten, will, of course, be hidden from the public as much as possible; but it is more important in this situation than in any other crisis that has arisen during the present reign.

British officials who have served in India and most of the Tories and many Liberals are alarmed at the united front which the Indian delegates show at present, but most of them believe that this will break down as soon as the conference gets down to details and that the age-long feud between Moslems and Hindus and the contempt and fear felt by the ruling Princes for the education of Indian politicians outside their frontier will split the Indians and permit compromise satisfactory to the British to be reached.

But speculation as to the probable course of the conference
would be absurd at this stage.
There has probably never been a meeting of delegates to settle one of the chief problems of the world where so little planning has been done in advance and where everything at stake is open to question.
The British attempt to get a plan in shape took years of work and resulted in the Simon report, but none of the main recommendations of this have been accepted by any of the Indian delegates here and the government, faced with the choice of throwing over the Simon report or having no conference, has chosen the former.

One interesting factor in the extremely complicated situation is that the break-up of the conference would probably result in the prompt fall of the Labor government here, although for other reasons. The effect this may have on the policy of the British delegation, which comprises Labor, Tory and Liberal members remains to be seen.

$2,500,000 Liverpool Fire.
LIVERPOOL, Nov. 10.—Sudden fire rearing through the dry timbers of a small waterfront warehouse today spread to adjacent
the British-American Tobacco Co.,
and caused damage estimated at
fought the blaze for five hours.

Melba Taken Ashore to Hospital.
10.—Dame Nellie Melba, Australian
prima donna who has been ill

WORLD TASK MOST DIFFICULT IN CENTURY, SAYS TARDIEU

But He Tells Paris Workmen This Is No Time to Lose Heart.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 10.—Four thousand mutilated former service men from the workingmen's quarter, La Villette, cheered Premier Tardieu yesterday when he admitted times are hard, but told them that was no reason to lose heart.

"Not for a century has the world
been at grips with such difficulties," said the Premier. "But in the general crisis we have been spared, and if we want to go on enjoying this privileged situation, it is not the time to talk or commit any folly."

Referring to nervousness in some quarters over political events
Germany and the disconcerting of some banking houses in France, the Premier went on.

"If the crop is bad, which happens in all epochs, the ruin of farmers is predicted. If a bank failure with purely local causes and effects happens, the direct prophecies are broadcast, as if people tried to create a danger that is non-existent."

"It is regrettable incidents take place in a neighboring country, the worst is foreseen in forgetfulness of the fact that moral force requires action and does not express itself in words."

CREATES BOARDS TO CONTROL SUGAR AND COCONUT CROPS

Philippine Legislature Adjourns
After Increasing Supreme Court
From 9 to 15.

By the Associated Press.
MANILA, Nov. 10.—The Philippine Legislature ended its session today after having adopted legislation creating boards to control the sugar and coconut industries, increasing the membership of the Supreme Court and refusing to approve the "Board of Education bill."

The Sugar and Coconut Boards were given power to limit crops.
The legislation also contains the possibility of forcing crop diversification.

Membership of the Supreme Court was increased from nine to 15 to relieve congestion of the court calendar.

The Senate refused to approve the "Board of Education bill," which would have given to the board many powers now held by the Philippine Governor-General.
The measure was passed by the House when it was believed Nicholas Roosevelt, opposed by many island leaders, would come to the Philippines as Vice Governor-General.
Roosevelt resigned before coming here and was appointed United States Minister to Hungary.

Nothing was done by the Legislature to curb Filipino emigration to the United States or to divert it to the island of Mindanao.

9349 MILES OF FEDERAL AID ROADS BUILT IN PAST YEAR

9915 Miles Being Improved and $469 Additional Miles Approved for Construction.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A total of 9349 miles has been added to Federal-aid highways in the Continental United States and Hawaii during the fiscal year 1930, the Bureau of Public Roads reports.

In addition, at the end of the year, 9915 miles of road were in process of improvement and $469 additional miles were approved for construction.

Government disbursements during the year on all active road and bridge projects aggregated $75-$80,000, a decrease of $5,000,000 under the total for 1929.

The construction during the year brought the mileage of the Federal aid system to 193,049.

Sandinio's Brother Deported.
PANAMA CITY, Nov. 10.—Cesarlino Sandino, brother of General Augustine Sandino, Nicaraguan insurgent leader, was deported Saturday night by quarantine authorities of the Canal Zone. He will return to La Union, Salvador, on the steamer Acajula.

JEWS IN PROTEST AGAINST CURB ON PALESTINE QUOTA

Resolutions Adopted in Mass Meeting Here Assail
Immigration Restrictions Imposed by Britain.

CAULFIELD URGES
RESPECT FOR TREATY

The Rev. Dr. M. Ashby
Jones Says All That Is Asked Is That Balfour Declaration Be Upheld.

Protesting against new restrictions of the British Government on Jewish immigration to Palestine and the amount of land they may acquire there, Jews of St. Louis gathered at Moolah Temple yesterday afternoon in an overflow meeting which was addressed by Gov.
Caulfield, Mayor Miller, former Congressman Nathan Frank, the Rev. Dr. M. Ashby Jones, and Ra-phael Gold, of Dallas, Tex.

About 3500 were crowded into the auditorium and loud speakers carried the talks to several hundred who could not gain admittance.

Rabbi Samuel Sale read two resolutions which were adopted. One, after reviewing the pledge of Great Britain, in the Balfour Declaration 12 years ago, and again in the League of Nations mandate following the World War, to foster the development of Palestine as the Jewish National Homeland, charged that "this trust, thus solemnly assumed by Great Britain has now been repudiated."

"Against this wrong perpetrated on our people, we solemnly protest," the resolution said. "We appeal to the British people to undo this wrong. We appeal to the supreme bar of public opinion and to the conscience of the enlightened world. We appeal to the traditions of British justice and British fair play on which we have relied."

Command Supporters in England.
The other resolution recounted that former Premier Stanley Bal-win and Lloyd George, Sir Austin Chamberlain, Leopold S. Amery,
Gen. Smuts and other statesmen
"have been deeply perturbed over the present British policy in Palestine and have risen in defense of the Jewish National Homeland."

"We voice our profound appreciation to these friends of our cause and send them our greetings for their loyalty and support in our hour of need," the resolution continued. Copies of it were mailed to those named.

"England is not known as a breaker of pledges," Gov. Caulfield said. "We may hope that when the English people hears the voice of protest from all the world they will demand that their Government keep its promise."

"I believe all America holds that the Jewish people have a right to aspire to a fatherland where they may realize their destinies untrammeled by prejudice and persecution. You have a right to protest against what seems to be a repudiation of the contract you have with England and which she is bound by treaty with all the world to carry out." The Governor came to St. Louis from Jefferson City by airplane to attend the meeting.

Mayor Miller said that no British cabinet can long maintain the support of its people if it attempts to repudiate the Balfour Declaration.

Mob Burns Rio Newspaper Plant

INCIDENT to the revolution which ousted President Washington Luis and installed Dr. Getulio Vargas in his stead were mob attacks on the newspapers that supported Washington Luis. Here is shown the crowd watching firemen make an unsuccessful attempt to save the plant of O Fais from being destroyed. Rioters had first ransacked the building, destroying furniture, printing presses and office equipment.

GERMAN REPUBLIC MOURNED AT SERVICE IN BEER CELLAR

Hitler's National Socialists Meet at Place Where He Planned
1923 Plot.

By the Associated Press.
MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 10.—
Two thousand National Socialists yesterday held a mourning service to observe the twelfth anniversary of the revolution which established the German republic.

They gathered around and in the Biergarten beer cellar, where Adolf Hitler planned his abortive conspiracy to overthrow the present German Government in 1923.

The ceremonies were conducted without disorder and Hitler kept in the background.

The Bavarian Government's prohibition of Fascist uniforms continued in force, but a hundred or so of the leading Fascists had obtained special permission to wear brown shirts for the occasion. The program was largely musical, the only speaker being the Fascist disciple commander, Alfred Wagner, who is a member of the Bavarian Diet.

SOCIALISTS GAIN IN AUSTRIA VOTE; COALITION TO RULE

Schober, Vienna Police President, Expected to Head Cabinet—Christian Party Loses 7 Seats.

FASCISTS REBUFFED;
GET ONLY 8 PLACES

They Campaigned for Big Membership and Planned
March on Vienna to Set Up Dictatorship.

By the Associated Press.
VIENNA, Nov. 10.—The Fascist Helmwehr which for the last five weeks has been making a determined campaign to enter the Austrian Parliament in strength, succeeded in gaining only eight seats in yesterday's general elections while the Socialists increased their strength, obtaining 73 mandates.

The Christian Social party, which previously had controlled the Government, fell from 73 seats to 66, while Dr. Johann Schober, Vienna Police President and former Chancellor, obtained 19 seats with his national economic bloc, thus gaining the balance of power.

Although the Fascists have expressed their contempt for Parliament and have been threatening a dictatorship, it is believed that in view of the poor showing they will permit the present Cabinet to be dissolved, giving up the two posts now held by Fascists, and will rely on Dr. Schober to keep a balance between the Helmwehr and the Socialists.

Proportional Representation.
It is not expected that the Christian Socialists will try to govern.
Dr. Seipel, their leader, it is thought, will try to persuade Dr.
Schober to enter the Cabinet and support a Christian Social Government. In such a case, it is likely that Chancellor Vaugoin will resign.

CENTRAL TRADES
VOTES CONFIDENCE IN INDICTED MAN

Declares Faith in O. E.
Jennings, Electrical Union Union Officer, as "Able and Upright."

A vote of confidence for Orville E. Jennings, an international vice president of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, was adopted by a small majority at a meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Union yesterday. Jennings and Chester H. Chapline, an electrical contractor, were indicted by the grand jury last Friday on charges of conspiracy to restrain trade in electrical installation in St. Louis, a violation of the State antitrust laws.

The resolution in behalf of Jennings was introduced by Martin Dillon, representing the Teamsters' District Council, and met with considerable opposition from other delegates. The motion was questioned that "The Central Trades reaffirm confidence in Orville E.
Jennings as an able labor leader and an upright citizen" and asked that judgment on Jennings be deferred "until he has had the opportunity to face an impartial jury." In support of the latter request Dillon pointed out that there is no representative of organized labor on the grand jury.

Daniel Murphy, president of the Central Trades, opposed the resolution on the ground that it is unwise for labor unions to engage in controversy over criminal charges against members, except in cases involving prejudice and unfair dealing.

"It is not our business to meddle in a matter of which we have little or no knowledge," Murphy said. "We will have the opportunity later to voice a protest if the facts show that Jennings is not getting a fair deal, but it is not our business to stir up a controversy at this time. A grand jury indictment is not a sentence, and Jennings will have an opportunity to prove himself innocent of the charges."

William J. Coombs, secretary-treasurer of the Typographical Union, and Emil Rule, representing the Carpenters' Union, joined in the protest against the resolution on the same grounds advanced by Murphy.

Union in Council.
The Electrical Workers' Union is represented in both the Central Trades and the Building Trades Council. The latter organization, composed of building craftsmen,
failed to approve the working agreement between electricians and employers, which is the basis for the conspiracy charge.

Jennings and Chapline are charged by the grand jury with setting up and controlling the Electrical Protective Association, and the Electrical Listing Bureau, for their own profit. Evidence was intended to show that they had received $25,000 in fees from the Electrical Protective Association alone since July, 1929. The Protective Association was formed to handle the life and annuity insurance for which contractors are charged $1.50 a day for each union electrician employed.

stand for a repudiation of the Balfour Declaration.
"The world will not close its ears
to your cry for justice," he said.
"The Balfour Declaration, as Senator Wagner has put it, is more than an expression of British policy. It is today the policy of the civilized world. It has its roots deep in the awakened conscience of mankind."

"Without Jewish immigration, without land, without government encouragement, a Jewish homeland cannot be built. I join with you in the fervent hope that Great Britain will keep inviolate her sacred covenant with the Jews."

Former Congressman Nathan Frank said that, although allowances must be made for political and economic conditions with which Americans may not be familiar, the recent proclamation of the Labor Government, which has become known as the "White Paper," is "in the judgment of the world a complete repudiation of the Balfour declaration."

Rabbi Gold suggested that if the Labor Government "perists in regarding the Balfour declaration as a mere scrap of paper, the Palestine mandate would still remain an integral part of international law to which both the League of Nations and the United States are solemnly committed."

The Glaring Discrepancy.
The liberal world, he said, should have no difficulty in seeing the glaring discrepancy between "a government seeking to foster the rule of a handful of Englishmen on 300,000,000 Hindus, and at the same time getting excited about a hypothetical fraction of the rights of an infinitely smaller majority of the Arabs in Palestine."
The new restrictions were said to have been invoked to protect the rights of native Arabs from immigrants by the Jewish immigrants.

DR. LOEB ENDS ARTICLES ON STATE SURVEY REPORT

Washington T. Dean summarizes his recent statements.
The seventh and final article of a series analyzing the report of the State Survey Commission, prepared by Dr. Isidor Loeb, professor of political science and Dean of the School of Business and Public Administration of Washington University, was issued today by the Associated Press. It is a summary of articles previously prepared by Dr. Loeb.

Attention is directed by Dr. Loeb to the statement by the Commission of its early plan for a detailed survey of the several departments of the State Government, looking for recommendations for an improved budget system and for correction of inefficient methods. Dr. Loeb expresses the opinion that the commission is justified in its action because of the weight of other duties imposed on it by law.

Gustave Klumper, president of the Jewish National Fund, presided. Other talks were made by Mendel N. Fischer, executive secretary of the fund for the Mid West and Southwest; M. J. Hinkin, president of the Zionist Organization in St. Louis; Leon Gellman, editor of the Jewish Record; B. Cohen of the Jewish newspaper Forward;
Morris Jick, representing the Poale Zionists; Rabbi Samuel Thurman, Rabbi Abraham Halpern and Rabbi Julius Gordon.

Rabbi Gordon referred to the White Paper as a "black page on England's history." "A home without a foundation in the soil can be but a castle in the air," he said.

PARIS FLOOD DANGER PAST
Waters of Seine Recede, but Precautionary Measures Continue.
By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—Fear of floods here as a consequence of rapid rise of the Seine was dispelled somewhat today when the waters of the swollen river receded somewhat.
The Meteorological Bureau predicts a spell of fair weather, and it is thought the danger is past.

Thousands stood along the banks of the river yesterday and watched its muddy turbid floods race by.
High water has flooded some cellars, but there has been no considerable damage. The authorities are not abandoning their precautionary measures and bags of sand and cement are being piled up along the banks for use in an emergency.

JUDGE CHARGES FRAUD IN CHICAGO ELECTION

Chief Justice Olson Says "Vote
Racket Is Next to Tax Racket."

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Declaring that if police reports are correct, Tuesday's election was "the most fraudulent Chicago has had in 50 years," Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal Court yesterday asked State's Attorney Swanson to make a thorough inquiry.

Judge Olson was one of 11 Republicans defeated in the vote for 15 municipal court places. Four were elected.

The basis for the investigation,
he said, is provided in a large number of complaints of deliberate piracy, widespread voting of "floaters," and irregularities.

"Unquestionably," Judge Olson asserted, "at least eight Republican Associate Justices and myself were actually elected."

The judge has a force of 50 men checking over the police reports on the various precincts.

It is thought an Assistant State's Attorney will be assigned exclusively to the inquiry.

"The vote racket," Judge Olson commented, "is next to the tax racket. That explains a great deal.
There were high stakes involved in the election and that was incentive enough to encourage fraud."

"In one precinct where the residents are Swedish, I did not receive one vote, which is indication enough that the vote was mishandled."

SAYS IRELAND WILL REALIZE HER NATIONAL ASPIRATIONS

Foreign Minister of Free State in Radio Address in U. S. Asserts Ireland Is Independent State.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Patrick McGilligan, Foreign Minister in the Cosgrave Cabinet, told an American radio audience in a trans-Atlantic broadcast yesterday that the Irish Free State definitely had established her position as an independent sovereign State.

Ireland, he said, became a member of the British commonwealth of nations "because she believed that her national aspirations could be realized to the full within the group. She did not give up any part of her ambition to build up an integral Irish nation. Above all, she did not intend to allow her individual nationhood to become obscured in any form of group unit artificially created by legalistic devices."

Referring to the system of appeals to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London, he said he did not wish his audience
"to conclude that the existence of the interference is more than a nasty thorn awaiting extraction."

"Just as other elements of British control have disappeared, so will this element disappear," he said.

But when he entered the living too, were all the rest of their household furnishings. The police today are looking for burglars with a moving van.

CONFESSES KILLING HIS WIFE

Set Fire to Her Clothing as She Slept, Slayer Tells Police.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 10.— Howard Swavely, 55 years old, who confessed Saturday to killing his wife by setting fire to her clothing
as she slept, according to Inspector Harry Walsh, fell on his knees as he dictated his admission of guilt, clapped his hands and cried: "Lord, save my soul and help these boys who are leading me aright."

According to the confession, Swavely said his wife drove him to distraction by nagging him because he was out of work and urging him to sell his automobile. He said the idea of killing her came to him as he lay awake by her side in their room early Friday. He got up, set fire to her clothing on a chair and watched the flames creep toward her side of the bed. Before she died she accused him of killing her to get $17,000 in insurance.

New Iso-Vis is the only motor oil that will not thin out from dilution.
Avoid the excessive dilution of your oil, that comes with cold weather.

These premium-priced oils are all well behind New Iso-Vis in this simple cold test demonstration. Each has the same body at normal engine heat. However, only New Iso-Vis shows the ability to give immediate lubrication when the temperature dips down below zero.

INCREASED engine wear in cold weather can be avoided. Demonstrations have proved that New Iso-Vis has these necessary protecting qualities.

1. New Iso-Vis lubricates from the instant your engine starts, even at below-zero

temperatures—and it gives equal protection at the highest temperatures your engine can reach.

2. New Iso-Vis ends all danger of excessive dilution. This feature comes from a patented step in the preparation.

3. New Iso-Vis cuts harmful carbon formation to a half of the average of various extra-priced oils.

New Iso-Vis is wholly distilled. It contains no undistilled parts of the crude. It is made by a new method

OVER
3 1/4 BILLION

DOLLARS per Year
Saved the Users of Railroad Service..

In spite of the fact that the railroads of the country have spent for improvements to their property, in addition to proper maintenance, over $6,800,000,000 since 1920, and during most of this period have provided almost perfect service, their freight and passenger rates, measured by the receipts per ton mile and per passenger mile, have declined 15.5 per cent and 10 per cent respectively. In other words, if the receipts per ton mile and passenger mile had been maintained for the years 1921 to 1929, the public's freight and passenger bill would have been over $6,100,000,000 greater, or nearly equal to their capital investment, in these years.

During this period, also, the rate of return on the railroad property investment has averaged less than three per cent.

The railroads are striving earnestly to continue their excellent service, but it is manifest they cannot continue to do so indefinitely unless they obtain sufficient revenues to meet their obligations, provide adequate improvements, and obtain a reasonable return on the value of their property devoted to public use.

Measured on the same basis as the information given above, the patrons of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company have saved over $150,000,000 by reason of reduced freight and passenger receipts for transportation service over this Railroad.

WALL STREET DECLINES IN AN ACTIVE STOCK TRADE HALTED LATE

Moderate Rallies From Extreme Drops of 1 to 10 Points—Standard Oil of New Jersey Sells Below 50, Lower Than 1929 Slump Level.

WHEAT DOWN TO LOWEST IN 28 YEARS

Over Week - End Margin Calls Thought a Factor in Selling—Market Value of All Shares on Exchange Decreased $5,117,472, 488 During October.

What the Market Did.	Monday.	Saturday.
Advances .....	134	120
Declines .....	587	490
Unchanged .....	178	148
Issues traded .....	899	758

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Another storm of selling blew itself out before the close of today's stock market, permitting a recovery of 1 to 3 points after stocks had been driven down 1 to 10.

Trading was the most active in a month, with total sales of about 4,500,000 shares, and the list closed irregularly lower, with numerous declines of 1 to 7, although a few shares rallied to finish with advances of 1 to 2.

The bear market moved on into its third month without important interruption today, for it was on Sept. 10 that the latest decline set in. Much of today's selling was believed to represent liquidation of marginal accounts impaired last week, and not bolstered with fresh funds over the week-end.

Some Wide Declines.
Ralls and utilities made wide declines, and rails were under heavy pressure. Standard of New Jersey broke 2 points to 49, going under the 50 mark, at which a bid for 1,000,000 shares checked the drop of a year ago, but it rallied to close at 50 1/2. United States Steel dropped 2 1/2 to a new low at 138, and closed at 140. American Telephone dropped nearly 4, and recovered 2. After selling off nearly 2, American Can closed with a gain of 1/2. Eastman and Vannadium gained about 2 points. North American dropped 6 1/2 and recovered 2. Aetna and Union Pacific closed off 5 and 6 1/2, after selling down 4 and 9. St. Louis Southwestern lost 10.

Only one active stock—Central Railroad of New Jersey—was left in the $200 class, a striking contrast to the 40 issues that sold above that price during the bull market of last year.

The market value of all shares on the New York Stock Exchange decreased $5,117,472,488 during October to a total of $55,025,710,617 Nov. 1.

Collateral loans to members of the Stock Exchange on Nov. 1 amounted to 4.65 per cent of the market value of all shares listed on that date, a decrease of 1.14 per cent from 5.79 per cent on Oct. 1. The ratio stood at 8.51 per cent Nov. 1 last year.

As of Nov. 1 there were 1216 stock issues, aggregating 1,298,845,244 shares, listed on the New York Stock Exchange, as against 1213 issues, aggregating 1,284,052,185 shares, on Oct. 1. The average market value of all listed shares Nov. 1 was $42.48, against $48.84 on Oct. 1. 4-Cent Drop in Wheat.

The further decline in stocks was accompanied by a drop of about 4 cents in wheat to the lowest prices in nearly 30 years, which was partly in sympathy with stocks, and in response to a report heard of a reduction in the Canadian wheat pool price. Corn declined less widely, closing 1/4 to 1 1/4 lower, influenced by bearish weather, and weakness in the Buenos Aires market.

BRITISH ISLES-CONTINENT RAIL-AIR SERVICE PLANNED

Railroads Negotiating for Establishment of Lines to Carry Both Passengers and Freight.
LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Reynolds News said today that after months of secret negotiations the four big British railway groups have nearly completed plans to inaugurate rail-air services between Great Britain, the Continent and Ireland.

The paper said the Government is backing the scheme and terms of the bold challenge British railways ever have made to regain business. The roads at first will co-operate with the Imperial Airways, already having reached agreement for through booking of merchandise. This freight service will begin next year, but the passenger service probably will not be under way before summer.

Twenty new amphibian airplanes have been ordered, and coastal rail-air airdromes will be established at Dover, Harwich, Hull and Holyhead. The first routes will be between Holyhead and Dublin, Dover and Paris, Hull and Holland and Harwich and Holland. Express trains will run up to the air stations.

PREMIER DECLARES AUSTRALIA WILL MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS

Statement Follows Decision of Labor Caucus in Dominion for Delay in Bond Payments.
LONDON, Nov. 10.—Premier Scullin of Australia, attending the British Imperial conference, last night issued a statement saying that the Australian Government would meet its obligations.

His action followed the recent decision of the Australian labor caucus, which voted for legislation compelling those holding bonds of a $27,000,000 (about $135,000,000) loan maturing in December to hold them another year.

"Nothing would induce us to adopt a policy of deliberately deferring payment of maturing loans," the Premier said. "They must be met on the date due. Any other course would be disastrous to our credit and would delay for years the restoration of economic prosperity."

Escarole Salad.
Remove the tender leaves from two heads of escarole. Wash thoroughly, drain and chill until crisp. Arrange the escarole in a circle on salad plates and serve with a well seasoned French dressing. The outside leaves, except the imperfect ones, are very good cooked and served like spinach.

Tray-Chilled Desserts.
Tray-chilled mousses, salads and desserts with all the satisfying iciness of frozen dishes and a delightful delicacy and smoothness of texture, will be ready to serve in two hours, but may safely be left in trays two hours longer. Be sure to serve within four hours as they must not actually freeze.

BAKED APPLES ARE OF VARIOUS TYPES

No Simple Dessert Is More Enticing Than a Delicately Baked Apple.

Baked apples, thanks to the modern school of cookery, are prepared in so many delicate and delicious ways that it is not at all unusual to find one variety or another, on the menus of the most exclusive tea rooms and coffee shops.

Here are directions for preparing several of the favorite types of baked apples.

Baked Apples.
Wipe and core apples. Place in a baking dish and fill centers with sugar and cinnamon, allowing one-half cup of sugar and one-fourth teaspoon of cinnamon to eight apples. Cover the bottom of the dish with boiling water and bake in a hot oven until soft, basting about eight or 10 minutes. Serve hot or cold with cream.

Baked Apples, Creole Style.
Cooked cored apples in a little water and lemon juice. Place in a dish and fill centers with jelly or marmalade. Add one-fourth of a cup of sugar to the liquid, boil and pour over the apples. On the top of each apple place a meringue, pressing it from a pastry bag through a star tube. Put the apples in a moderate oven for about eight or 10 minutes. Serve cold.

Apples in Maple Syrup.
Cut eight apples in halves and remove the cores with a teaspoon, but into a baking pan with one cup of maple syrup and one and one-half cups of water and two tablespoons of butter. Bake until the syrup is thick and serve with whipped cream.

Ginger Apples.
Pare and core some apples. Fill the cavity in the center of each apple with a spoonful of chopped preserved ginger. Stand them in baking dish (not tin) and pour over a syrup made either of sugar and water flavored with lemon, and with a piece of dried ginger cooked in it, or if there is enough ginger syrup, this may be used with the addition of a little water. Bake until soft and transparent, but not broken, basting occasionally with the syrup.

Serve hot or cold, with a little whipped cream garnished with some pieces of ginger.

Gingerbread Tidbits.
Gingerbread hobgoblins create a lot of fun and are delicious to eat. Simply bake your standby gingerbread recipe in muffin pans, frost with boiled or confectioners' frosting, and press in raisin, currant and nut faces. Served with a glass of sweet cider you have a dessert that will be immensely popular.

ADD PRUNES TO CORNBREAD AND ENJOY A REAL TREAT

This Fruit May Also Be Used in Making a Delicate Baked Pudding.

Prunes may be used as other fruit is used in cooked puddings and hot quick breads.

Prune Corn Bread.
Ingredients needed are two eggs, one cup buttermilk, three tablespoons sugar, one and three-fourths cup white flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, four tablespoons melted shortening, two tablespoons finely cut fresh orange peel, (the yellow only) and one cup sliced, cooked prunes. Beat eggs, add milk, sugar, and mix well. Combine with corn meal then flour sifted with baking powder, soda, and salt. Beat thoroughly. Add shortening, orange peel, and when blended fold in cut prunes. Pour into greased pan and bake about 15 minutes in a hot oven.

Prune Pudding.
One cup chopped cooked prunes,

one-half cup bread crumbs, one-fourth cup sugar, one-half cup chopped walnuts, one-half cup milk, one egg, one tablespoon melted butter, one teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Mix with ingredients and pour in greased baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake 30 minutes. Serve with cream or pudding sauce.

TONGUE WITH CURRANT SAUCE

This Meat Product Makes a Nice Main Dish.

To roast a tongue, place one which has been boiled in a roasting pan and lard it by placing strips of bacon or salt pork on top. Pour over it the stock in which it was boiled and a little melted fat and baste often.

About ten minutes before it is done, sprinkle with bread crumbs moistened with butter.

Brown well, remove to platter, add red currant jelly to liquor remaining in the pan and serve with the tongue.

A HELPFUL SUGGESTION

Foods Molded in Designs Meet With Great Favor.

Great care should be taken in unmolding gelatine molds.

The bowl of warm water should be large enough to permit the complete immersion of the mold and the water deep enough to reach its rim.

Have the water slightly more than lukewarm, dip the mold to the rim and remove it quickly. Loosen at the edge of the mold by pulling it back slightly with the tip of the finger turn plate over the mold, invert both together and loosen mold with a slight shake.

When several individual molds are to be arranged on one plate, unmold each on a broad spatula and slip into place.

When Cooking Fish.
A tablespoon of lemon juice added to the egg in which fish is dipped before frying gives it a delicious flavor.

Have you Tried Them?

Creamettes—the more tender more delicious Macaroni product! If you want a real treat and a new thrill at mealtime, try a package of Creamettes. You can tell they are superior by the superior way they cook up.

NEW WAYS OF PREPARING SPINACH FOR HOME MEALS

This Wholesome Vegetable Should Be Included Often in the Family Menu.

These new spinach recipes will be appreciated by home cooks: Mix one cup chopped cooked spinach, one cup dry bread crumbs and one cup boiled rice together. Add one teaspoon each of onion juice and salt and one-half teaspoon pepper.

Melt two tablespoons fat in a hot frying pan, spread in the mixture and cook over a low fire until a brown crust is formed on the bottom. Fold like an omelet before serving.

Spinach Croquettes

Mix one and one-fourth cups finely chopped, well-drained cooked spinach, one finely chopped hard-boiled egg, one teaspoon salt, one well-beaten egg and one-eighth teaspoon pepper together.

Mix thoroughly, form into flat cakes, cover with crumbs and brown in hot fat in the frying pan or in deep fat. Serve with an onion sauce made by adding one cup chopped boiled onion to one cup white sauce.

BLANC MANGE IS A CORNSTARCH PUDDING

When Making This Dessert Remember Many Variations Are Possible.

Cornstarch pudding or blanc mange as many persons call this delicacy, is capable of many variations. Any one of the varieties makes a dainty dessert for a hearty meal. As cornstarch puddings are always served cold, it is well to prepare and cook the dish early in the morning and allow it to stand in the refrigerator until dinner time so that it may become thoroughly chilled.

Standard Recipe.

The standard recipe for cornstarch pudding calls for three tablespoons cornstarch, one cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, two cups milk, one teaspoon butter and one teaspoon flavoring.

Scald milk in double boiler. Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt together and moisten with some of the milk. Stir into the remaining milk and cook 30 minutes in the top of a double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened. Add butter and flavoring. Pour into wet molds.

Suggested Variations.

1. Stir well beaten eggs into the pudding five minutes before removing from the fire.

2. Substitute brown or maple sugar for the granulated.

3. When removing from the fire, add one cup grated coconut well drained, diced fruit, chopped dates, chopped figs, or chopped nut meats.

4. Substitute one cup water with three-fourths cup orange juice and three-fourths cup lemon juice or pineapple juice for the milk. Add one tablespoonful grated orange peel or chopped candied orange peel, just before molding.

5. Add squares of melted chocolate to the pudding when it thickens, or six tablespoons full of cocoa with the cornstarch and sugar.

6. Divide pudding into three parts, adding chocolate to one part, leave one part white and add pink vegetable coloring to the third portion. Pour into the mold in layers or combine, stirring only enough to partly blend the colors. It will have the appearance of marble in design.

About Tapioca Desserts.

There are two types of tapioca desserts. Those cooked on top of the stove and those which are partially cooked on top of the stove and then turned into a baking dish and cooked in the oven until done. First step for all tapioca desserts is to cook the tapioca in some hot liquid until clear.

Chochrane, Despite Broken Rib, Joins Team in Cleveland and Mackmen Win Seven of Next Nine Games.

They even surprised me with the spirit they went after the Browns in that series. Perkins caught as smoothly as if he had been behind the bat all season and surprised us with his timely hitting.

No doubt his smart work had a great deal to do with restoring confidence among the players. The upshot was that we won four out of six games and stopped the slump.

Our next stop was in Cleveland, always a tough spot for us, and there in the lobby of our hotel we found Chochrane, his face wreathed in smiles, waiting for us.

You can't keep a fellow like him out of the game long. Specialists in Philadelphia had treated his broken rib and told him he could catch without danger of complications although the side would be sore for an indefinite time.

That was enough for Chochrane, who hopped on the next train for Cleveland.

His appearance was a tonic to the team. On the same day, Haas declared he was ready to return to the field. The dark clouds were steadily drifting away.

We continued our good work by taking three out of five games with Cleveland and then finishing our trip in Detroit by mopping up the Tigers four straight.

Therefore after losing to the White Sox we had won three straight series and finished the Western trip with a record of 12 victories and seven defeats.

I knew then I had a championship team.

We left Philadelphia with a lead of nine games and returned 19½ games out in front. We had actually improved our lead on the road in spite of crippled players.

NORTHWESTERN CLOSES ITS BIG TEN SEASON BY MEETING BADGERS

VICTORY WOULD GIVE WILDCATS CLEAN SLATE IN THE CONFERENCE

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 10.—With four games won and none lost, Northwestern leads in the Big Ten Conference football race, with Michigan close behind with three games to their credit. The Wildcats scored their fourth conference victory of the season by defeating Indiana, 25 to 0, Saturday. Michigan played a nonconference game Saturday. In the only other conference game during the week-end, Purdue walloped Chicago, 25 to 7.

The chase for the title enters the final lap next Saturday. Northwestern ends its conference season playing Wisconsin at Evanston. Michigan has two remaining games on its schedule, meeting Minnesota and Chicago, both games to be played at Ann Arbor. Should Northwestern succeed in winning over Wisconsin it would give the Wildcats a clean slate and at least place them in a tie for the championship, depending on the remaining games to be played by Michigan.

The Title Possibilities.

Should Michigan win its remaining games it would throw the Wildcats into a tie with Northwestern for first-place honors, whereas should Northwestern drop one game and Michigan win both it would give Michigan the undisputed title. On the other hand, should Northwestern win their long remaining game and Michigan drop one, Northwestern would claim a clean championship.

There still remains several other possibilities, which give Purdue a chance at the flag. Should Northwestern drop their final game and Michigan drop one and Purdue win their final game with Indiana it would throw the championship into a three-way split, and, further, should Northwestern fall before Wisconsin and Michigan lose two games and Purdue win their final game, it would throw Northwestern and Purdue into a tie. The season could even end with Michigan and Purdue tied for the pennant. From present indications, however, the season promises to end with Northwestern having either a clear title or having at least a tie with Michigan for the championship.

Wildcats Have Edge.

Wisconsin is favored to push Northwestern hard when the two teams meet Saturday, although the Wildcats have the best of it on paper. Michigan will clash with Minnesota at Ann Arbor, with the Wolverines favored. In the third conference game to be played, Illinois will meet Chicago at Chicago, but the result will have no bearing on the championship race.

The season will close Nov. 22, with Chicago playing at Michigan and Indiana. Purdue and the outcome of these games will tell the final story of the 1930 Big Ten championship scramble. Other final games will see Ohio State playing at Illinois and Minnesota at Wisconsin, while in nonconference games Notre Dame will play at Northwestern and Nebraska at Iowa.

Tunney's Plea For a Directed Verdict Fails

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Counsel for Gene Tunney, who retired as heavyweight boxing champion of the world with close to $200,000 to show for his ring career, tried once more and in vain today to obtain dismissal of the $500,000 breach of contract suit brought against him by Tim Mara. When Supreme Court Justice Hattie declined to direct a verdict for Tunney, counsel began their summations and the court announced the case would be given to the jury before night.

Mara claims $500,000 of Tunney's pugilistic earnings for services he contends he rendered the ex-champion before he won his title from Dempsey in Philadelphia in 1926. Because part of the alleged agreement was based on an "understanding" with Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, counsel for Tunney asked dismissal of the case today on the basis of a Pennsylvania rule compelling boxers and their managers to have written contracts. Justice Hattie denied this motion and another based on the contention that Mara's contract was obtained under duress.

Emery R. Buckner, Tunney's lawyer, began his summation after Mara had taken the stand briefly as a rebuttal witness. Martin W. Littleton, Mara's attorney, was allotted the afternoon session for his concluding plea.

Buckner went over telegrams from the late Tim Mara to Dempsey and Tunney before April 2, 1926, the day Mara contends he made the contract with Tunney to receive a share of his purse and future earnings. The telegrams dealt with Rickard's efforts to assure the Dempsey-Tunney match, "I would give Tunney, with all this in mind," Buckner asked the jury, "to Timothy J. Mara and say, 'I'll give you $500,000 if you'll help me get a match with Jack Dempsey'?"

SINGER DEFENDS TITLE IN BOUT WITH CANZONERI

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—A battle for the lightweight championship of the world with Al Singer defending his crown against Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight title holder, comes to the rescue of the national boxing program this week and saves it from almost complete obscurity.

The battle, which is to take place in Madison Square Garden Friday night, is something of a novelty for New York. It is the first time in nine years a lightweight title bout has been held indoors here. Singer won the championship from Sammy Mandell in an outdoor fight last summer.

Canzoneri is considered the leading contender for the lightweight crown as a former title holder and a veteran scrapper who once gave Mandell a great fight for the title. It is the first time the title has been at stake since Singer won it.

CHRISTOPHER OPPOSES ZEIGLER TUESDAY IN ARMISTICE DAY GAME

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill., Nov. 10.—Christopher and Zeigler, for several years the best of football rivals, meet Tuesday at Zeigler in their annual game for supremacy of the gridiron between the two schools.

Christopher is now leading the Central Egyptian Conference and has not been defeated since the first game of the season. They are favored to win over Zeigler, but they can expect a hard game.

Zeigler, as in former years, can be expected to show improved strength against their neighboring rivals. Coach Bergtholts has developed one of the strongest teams in Southern Illinois since their defeat at the hands of Johnston City, which is the only team that has been inside Christopher's 10-yard line.

Concordia Seminary boy, drafted from the Nebraska State League, played 16 games for Columbia and hit .176 and was released. He finished the campaign in the Nebraska State League.

Walter Meine, a pitcher, and brother of "Heine" of the Pirates, and Luxemburg's contribution to the national pastime, played 15 games in the outfield for Columbia, and batted .037. He finished the season pitching for Johnny Tobin's Birmingham team in the Three-I League. Walter made the spring training trip with the Pirates.

CATHOLIC EDUCATOR ATTACKS SOVIET FIVE-YEAR PLAN

Georgetown U. Vice President Says World Revolution Is Aim of Industrial Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The assertion that the Soviet five-year industrialization plan was designed to bring about such disastrous economic conditions as to accomplish a world revolution was made today by the Rev. Edmund Walsh, vice president of Georgetown University, in testimony before the House Committee.

Father Walsh, who was with the American Relief Commission in Russia several years ago, said the Soviets planned to create world-wide economic depression by dumping into the world markets products of enslaved labor. He read from a book by G. T. Grinko, creator of the five-year industrial plan.

He said the Soviet five-year plan was an important part of the offensive of the proletariat of the world against capitalism; it is a plan tending to undermine capitalist stabilization; it is a great plan of world revolution.

The educator presented to the committee a copy of a book written by Gregoire Bessodov, formerly Charge d'Affaires at the Soviet Embassy in Paris, disclosing how he was to be sent to the United States presumably for trade relations, but specifically to promote Communist propaganda.

Other protestants include Phil De C. Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns Baseball Club and L. C. McNary, business associate of Ball.

changes and revolutions from the balcony window overlooking the National Palace and the Plaza de la Constitucion. Embittered at his lot in life, he became a Communist. He read and thought and thought and from such things as he read, principally propaganda, of the Third Internationale, of Karl Marx and Nicolai Lenin, and of the world revolution. Friday, the thirteenth anniversary of October 25, 1917, the Russian Revolution, the day when the Bolsheviks won victory in Russia, Mayorga decided to do his bit to bring about a new era in Mexico.

He obtained a large strip of red bunting and on it he painted the words, in Spanish, "Down With the Bourgeoisie and With Communism!" He then hung the banner out of the windows of the balcony, where throngs gathered in the plaza below to watch a Communist demonstration.

The banner created quite a hubbub.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Valued at millions of dollars, the best examples of ancient Persian craftsmanship have arrived here in a tramp steamer, whose Negro crew thought it carried dates.

Lent by the Shah of Persia to the Royal Academy for an international exhibition of Persian art, the treasure was under constant guard. The steamer, however, was started toward the ship in Persia until it was locked up. The exhibition will open Jan. 7 and will continue two months.

To defeat efforts of Persian bandits, three huge capitanes manned several boats from Teheran to Abadan. Even the name of the ship, the Baharistan, a 5000-ton steamer, was guarded in secrecy to minimize danger of pirates and none, save the captain, knew the whereabouts of the treasure.

The treasures rival in splendor

those of Aladdin's cave. There are specimens of Persian art ranging from about 200 B. C. to modern times. They include silken carpets woven in silver and gold, bronzes encrusted with silver and gold, sacred manuscripts and pictures brought from the sacred tombs of Shah Abbas II and have never yet been seen by foreigners.

At an hour when the streets were comparatively deserted, these treasures were seen and secretly through the London police escort, to the Burlington House.

Few Europeans have ever gazed on such treasures. There are carpets more precious than a Raphael or a Rembrandt. There are brocades, which are said to have been the treasure of medieval harem.

There is a set of silver vessels in rich filigree out of which it is said that the great caliph, Harun al-Rashid of Baghdad, craved.

There are the sword, the dagger, the scabbard, weapons and hundreds of ornaments that blaze in medley of rich coloring.

"I am pleased and glad to say and tell you that a package of ACIDINE helped me quicker," says William Rontz of Windsor, Pa. "I will tell you that I have been troubled with indigestion and heartburn for a long time. Inconvenient with this all goes on my acid stomach. I tell others about this because ACIDINE has helped me." Just another of thousands who are astonished at the way this prescription drug has helped them.

It is a wonder drug. The reason is simple. It is somewhat different from other drugs. It is a natural substance. It is a taste, which, in laboratory tests, digested 800 times faster than other acids. It is a stomach food. ACIDINE neutralizes burning acids, soothes irritated stomachs, and restores natural balance, helps relieve indigestion.

Eat, drink all you want. When you get a gas, pain, heartburn, or bad taste, heavy feeling, shortness of breath, indigestion, heartburn, headaches and sleeplessness, trouble you, take ACIDINE. If not better, return it for a refund. You can't get it from your druggist today.

Best Remedy for Common Coughs, Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a cold or cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than any other remedy. It has no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicines, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

Pinex can actually do its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such a quick relief.

Pinex has a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and serves as one of the greatest healing agents for incipient bronchial coughs and other severe coughs due to colds.

Pinex is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

police saw a more immediate threat, and tried to how it got there, tore it down within a few minutes of its appearance.

It was not until yesterday that Federal district officials solved the mystery. They reasoned that since no one was admitted to the hotel, unless accompanied by either the sexton or bellinger, one of those two must know the guilty person.

They went after Mayorga, who, seeing them coming, climbed to the highest balcony of the back tower and had to be removed forcibly.

Once pulled from his perch, he confessed what he had done and, implicating others, told of his conversion to Communism. Police put him in jail and the back tower of Senora de Mayorga but she had fled. The bell tower, occupied without interruption since the cathedral was built centuries ago by the conquistadores, was without a priest.

The cathedral sexton, Jose de la Luz Vega Sanchez, also has been arrested because of the banner incident and it now is up to the archbishop to appoint two new functionaries.

British army rolls as "aircraftsman Shaw" and the outstanding statesmen and financiers of half a dozen nations were named as having aided and abetted the movement.

Poincare and Briand of France,
Henri Deterding, British oil magnate, Winston Churchill, of England, and prominent figures in Poland, Rumania and Finland were named as co-conspirators.

The counter-revolutionist leader Ramsay MacDonald is alleged to have been the prime mover in the plot. He is alleged to have been the prime mover in the plot. He is alleged to have been the prime mover in the

leged to have been the prime mover

The alleged Russian leaders, who will be tried on charges of high treason for which the punishment is death are alleged to have implicated more than 200 others in confessions of their parts in the plot.

Preparing the War.
The indictment charges that they have been working for several years to disorganize industry, foment discontent among the people, and otherwise to prepare the way for a counter-revolution. Actual military force was to have been applied last summer, the indictment reads, but because of difficulties between France and Italy and because of the uncertainty of German support this move was postponed to 1937.

The alleged confessions were said to name Poincare and Briand as the leading supporters of the plot abroad, and the indictment charges that the scheme was controlled from Paris, where financial arrangements and espionage were directed by a "trade industrial committee" composed of exiled Russian financiers, who were said to have received a million gold rubles
for their cause in the past year, through figures named in the indictment as "certain high officials of a certain French institution in Moscow."

The only "French institution" in Moscow is the French embassy.
The alleged confessions refer to officials of the "institution" only by initials such as "A," "M," and
"R." These officials, the indictment charges, formed an active liaison between the committee in Paris and the leaders of the plot in Moscow.

In the confession which Ramsain was said to have made, details of the plot were disclosed. There was to have been an "incident" on the Rumanian border, as a result of which Rumania was to have declared war. Her ally, Poland, also was to have declared war and other countries were to follow their example.

France Was to Supply Means.
The French were to provide supplies of arms and ammunition, and Great Britain was to send her fleet into the Black Sea and the Baltic, taking over the Crimea and Leningrad, while an army of 100, 000 led by the former Russian, Gen.
Loukomsky, would march on Moscow.

The plotters, it was said, figured that the army would number 1,000, 000 men through rapid enlistment of discontented peasants on the advance toward Moscow.

The new Government, according to the confession, was virtually born in advance. Ramsain or other leaders were to be chosen in advance. Ramsain or other leaders were to be chosen in advance.
